

Patron Social Media Use Policy on Library Social Media Outlets

The Mission of the Scranton Public Library is to provide materials, related services, and programming to meet the educational, recreational and informational needs of the residents of Lackawanna County. In keeping with this mission, the library uses various social media outlets such as Twitter, Facebook, Instagram, and others to engage library patrons in an open communication about library materials, services and programs.

The role and utility of social media outlets are constantly evaluated by library staff and may be terminated at any time without notice.

By joining, utilizing, and/or posting on the Library's social media outlets, you agree to comply with this Policy. The Scranton Public Library assumes no liability regarding any event or interaction that takes place on library sanctioned outlets and does not endorse or review content outside the library sanctioned outlets created by Scranton Public Library staff. Comments posted by users on library outlets do not reflect the view of the library staff, administration, and Board. Comments containing copyright violations, child pornography, or physical threats will be removed.
